

Our Students' Biggest Need Is Snacks

Message from Executive Director Danielle Nadler: Even during the season when school is far from most people's minds, we receive generous offers to help from community supporters. So, we asked the principals at the 30+ schools that benefit from our Backpack Coalition program: what is your greatest need?

Their answer may surprise you: it's snacks! The overwhelming consensus is a need for lighter fare to fill our school pantries.

These snacks are crucial to keeping our students focused and ready to learn. For some students, lunchtime arrives as early as 10:30 a.m., making these snacks a vital bridge to maintain energy levels throughout the rest of the day.

As our young learners grow, physically, mentally and emotionally, the extra nourishment proves invaluable. We're looking for items like granola bars, fruit cups and trail mixes that keep our students fueled. Even as we feed 1,000 students each week, the need outpaces our supplies.

We are so thankful for Brian Tinsman at POUNCE Solutions for completely reimagining our digital welcome mat!

The website redesign is focused on telling the stories of the individuals and organizations who partner with the Loudoun Education Foundation, as well as showcasing the resulting real-life impact on LCPS students and educators. CHECK IT OUT

Your Support in Action: Supporting Future Loudoun Teachers

Last month, we delivered three big checks, one for each of the Diversifying the Teaching Workforce Scholarship winners:

- Seneca Ridge Middle School registrar Jennifer Ramos;
- Broad Run High School graduating senior Jaina Soppet;
- Loudoun Valley High School graduating senior Patrick Orender.

Thank you to the generous donors who helped these three aspiring teachers pursue their dream careers. Special thanks to Integrative Chiropractic, Rumble Boxing Ashburn, Hot Wox Stone Ridge and Ashburn Farm, Pure Barre Leesburg, Bobbio Family Dental, and Dentist Joanna Claustro.
